Fear Dance Relationship

DISCOVERING YOUR CORE FEAR

“And he (Adam) said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid because I was naked; and I hid myself.”(Genesis 3:10)

1. Describe a recent conflict, argument or negative situation with your child – something that really “pushed your buttons.”

2. How did you feel in response to this conflict or situation? How did that conflict or argument make you feel? Check all that apply – but put a “star” beside the most important feelings:

3. How did this conflict make you feel about yourself? What did the conflict say about you? What was the “self” message – the message that it sent to you? What were the buttons that got pushed? Circle all that apply, but “star” the most important feeling you felt about yourself.

“As a result of the conflict, I felt...”

Rejected

What that feeling sounds like:

My friend or relative doesn’t want me; my friend or relative doesn’t need me; I am not necessary for this relationship; my friend or relative does not desire me; I feel unwanted.

Abandoned

I will be alone; my friend or relative will ultimately leave me; I will be left alone to care for myself; my friend or relative won’t be committed to me for life.

Disconnected

We will become emotionally detached or separated.

Like a failure

I am not successful at being a friend/relative; I will not perform right or correctly; I will not live up to expectations; I will fall short in my relationships; I am not good enough.

Fear Dance Relationship

Helpless/powerless

I cannot do anything to change my friend or relative or my situation; I do not possess the power, resources, capacity, or ability to get what I want; I will be controlled by my friend or relative.

Defective

Something is wrong with me; I am the problem.

Inadequate

I am not capable; I am incompetent.

Inferior

Everyone else is better than I am; I am less valuable or important than others.

Invalidated

Who I am, what I think, what I do, or how I feel is not valued.

Unloved

My friend or relative doesn't love me anymore; my friend or relative has no affection or desire for me; my relationship lacks warm attachment, admiration, enthusiasm, or devotion; I feel as if we are just roommates – that there are no feelings between us.

Dissatisfied

I will not experience satisfaction within the relationship; I will exist in misery for the rest of my life; I will not be pleased with in my relationship; I feel no joy in my relationship.

Fear Dance Relationship

Cheated

My friend or relative will take advantage or me; my friend or relative will withhold something I need; I won't get what I want.

Worthless/devalued

I am useless; I have no value to my friend or relative.

Don't measure up

I am never able to meet my friend or relative's expectations of me; I am not good enough as a friend or relative.

Unaccepted

My friend or relative does not accept me; my partner is not pleased with me; my friend or relative does not approve of me.

Judged

I am always being unfairly judged or misjudged; my friend or relative forms faulty or negative opinions about me; I am always being evaluated; my friend or relative does not approve of me.

Fear Dance Relationship

Humiliated

This relationship is extremely destructive to my self-respect or dignity.

Ignored

My friend or relative will not pay attention to me; I will be unknown in my relationship; I feel neglected.

Unimportant

I am not important to my friend/relative; I am irrelevant, insignificant, or of little priority to my friend or relative.

Step 5: Discuss How This Plays Out In Your Conflicts

How Do You Stop The Fear Cycle?

1. Accept the fact that “my journey” – to become the man or woman God created and called me to be – is 100% my responsibility.

Being a young adult means that I am fully capable of being personally and fully responsible for my own mental, spiritual, emotional, and physical well-being.

2. Identify and control what I can control and surrender what I can't:

God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change; the courage to change the things I can; and the wisdom to know the difference” (Serenity Prayer) a. My focus should first be on me and my stuff.

a. My focus should first be on me and my stuff.

(Matt. 7:2-5) (2) For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again. (3) And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye? (4) Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye? (5) Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

- b. I can control my buttons and how I react to others.
- c. Release our loved ones from being responsible for us.

1) Create Space – either internally or physically

(James 1:19) Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath:

2) Identify your emotions, feelings, buttons, fears, hurts etc.

- a. Identify the lies I am believing
- b. Choose to believe what is true based on what God says about you.
- c. Ask yourself: what did I do to contribute to my buttons getting pushed or staying pushed?
- d. Choose to respond. Call time out and decide together on a time to return.

(Gal 5:1)

Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.

(2Tim 1:7)

For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

(Rom 12:18)

If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.

(Phil. 4:13)

I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.

(Gal. 6:5)

For every man shall bear his own burden.

Fears can provide useful information when they are uncovered, acknowledged, and addressed. For your heart to heal you must first discover what has been written on your heart. Consider this when discussing the following questions.

- What are the topics most common in your conflicts?
- Which core fears did you identify after completing the Discovering Your Core Fear Buttons exercise?

Fear Dance Relationship

Most Important Feeling (Star) _____

Additional Feelings _____

- Fears (buttons) are often the result of negative messages written on the “tablets of our hearts.” Can you identify several of the negative messages from your past? Where did they come from? What does the Lord say about you and these messages?
- When you and your child are in the “fear cycle,” what are your reactions?
- Your reaction is intended to get a certain result. What result are you trying to achieve through your reaction? What is motivating that desired result?
- It is important to realize that we bring our half of the Fear Dance (our “buttons” and our “reactions”) into every relationship, even our relationship with the Lord. The good news is God doesn’t have any buttons and therefore isn’t reactive. Reflect on how your “buttons/ fears” and “reactions” impact your spiritual journey.

SAFETY DISCUSSION

As we learn about our fear dance, we need to recognize that our “buttons” cause us to feel unsafe and we react because we don’t like the way we feel. Our reactions generally push our child’s “buttons” causing them to feel unsafe and we begin to spin around and around. Discuss, as a parent-child relationship, how this Fear Cycle affects your ability to keep your heart open to each other.
